Introduction

The New York State Commission on Ethics and Lobbying in Government (Commission) has prepared this guide to assist individuals with completing the 2023 Annual Statement of Financial Disclosure (a “Statement” or “FDS”), which is required by Public Officers Law Section 73-a, as amended by Chapter 56 of the Laws of 2023. This guide is for informational purposes only and does not have the force of law. It is not a substitute for a careful reading of the relevant law, including Public Officers Law Sections 73, 73-a, and 74 and Executive Law Section 94. Statutes can be found on the Commission's website under Laws > Ethics Laws and Regulations.

If you have questions on how to complete your FDS that are not covered by this guide, you may contact Commission staff by calling (800) 87-ETHICS (38442) and pressing “3” to reach an FDS Filings Specialist or by sending an email to FDSHelpDesk@ethics.ny.gov.

Who Must File

Under Public Officers Law Section 73-a, the following individuals (“filers”) must file a Statement with the Commission:

- state officers or employees with an annual salary rate above the job rate of SG-24 ($111,897) (“threshold filers”);
- state officers or employees designated as “policymakers” by their appointing authority;
- members of the Legislature;
- legislative employees with an annual salary rate above the job rate of SG-24 ($111,897) or designated as “policymakers” by their appointing authority;
- political party chairpersons representing jurisdictions with a population exceeding 300,000;
- statewide elected officials; and
- candidates for statewide elected office or for member of the Legislature.

If you work for more than one office or employer within the executive branch and your total combined annual salary rates for those jobs is more than $111,897, you must file a Statement with the Commission. However, if you work for two different branches of government (e.g., executive and legislative) and your combined annual salary rate for each job does not exceed $111,897, you do not have to file a Statement.

NOTE: Appointed Positions. If you are an appointed state officer or employee, you may have submitted a financial disclosure report to your appointing authority in connection with your appointment. Such disclosure is separate from your obligation to file a Statement with the Commission. You should contact Commission staff to discuss your filing requirements.

New York City Conflict of Interest Board Filers. If you are required to file both a Statement with the Commission and an Annual Disclosure Report with the New York City Conflict of Interests Board (COIB), you may satisfy your filing obligation with the Commission by submitting your COIB filing, along with Commission's FDS Supplemental Form for COIB Filers. The submission of the FDS Supplemental Form for COIB Filers and the COIB Annual Disclosure Report in lieu of a complete Statement is optional. Commission regulations regarding public records inspections and requests for deletions, not COIB rules, govern such submissions. A filer who opts not to submit the FDS Supplemental Form for COIB Filers with the COIB Annual Disclosure Report must complete the Statement through Commission's online filing system or by submitting a paper form. The FDS Supplemental Form for COIB Filers may be found on the Commission's website under Financial Disclosure > Filing Information and Forms.

Requests for Exemptions from Filing

State officers or employees who are required to file an FDS because their annual salaries are above the threshold (i.e., Threshold Filers) and who are not designated as policymakers may request an exemption from filing. Agencies and unions may also request an exemption on behalf of a class of individuals in the same position.

The Commission, at its discretion, may grant the exemption if (1) the public interest does not require disclosure and (2) the individual's official duties do not involve:

- the negotiation, authorization, or approval of contracts, leases, franchises, revocable consents, concessions, variances, special permits, or licenses as defined in Section 73 of the Public Officers Law;
- the purchase, sale, rental or lease of real property, goods or services, or a contract therefor;
- the obtaining of grants of money or loans; or
- the adoption or repeal of any rule or regulation having the force and effect of law.

A request for an exemption from filing must be made in writing or via the FDS Online Filing System described below and received by the Commission on or before the Statement due date. Forms and instructions are available on the Commission's website under Financial Disclosure > Filing Information and Forms. For more information, please see Title 19 NYCRR Part 935 on the Commission's website under Laws > Ethics Laws and Regulations.

- Filers must make sure they have attached their official agency job description or Civil Service job description. A performance evaluation will not suffice.
- Forward a copy of this form to your agency's Ethics Officer and indicate on the application the Ethics Officer's name, email and date you provided to your agency Ethics Officer. The Filer's agency has 7 business days from the date the Filer provided a copy to their Ethics Officer to submit an objection in writing to the Commission.

When Statements are Due

MAY 15, 2024

All Filers—other than those deemed “Academic Filers” by the State University of New York (SUNY) or the City University of New York (CUNY)—must file by May 15, 2023. Policymakers at SUNY or CUNY may not be designated Academic Filers and must file by May 15, 2023.

NOVEMBER 15, 2024

CUNY and SUNY employees designated as “Academic Filers” must file by November 15, 2024.

WITHIN 30 DAYS OF BECOMING A FILER

State employees or officials whose annual salaries exceed the threshold filing rate or who are designated policymakers after April 15 (or October 15, in the case of Academic Filers) must file within 30 days of the change in their salary or policymaker designation. New State employees or officials who (1) have annual salaries above the threshold or are designated policymakers and (2) commence employment after April 15 (or October 15, in the case of Academic Filers), must file within 30 days of hire.

Note: Members of the Legislature, legislative employees, and candidates for the Legislature should refer to the Legislative Ethics Commission for filing deadlines and procedures.

Requests for Extension of Time to File

Justifiable Cause or Undue Hardship

If there are significant circumstances that prevent you from filing your Statement by the due date, you may request a 45-day extension of time to file on the basis of justifiable cause or undue hardship. Justifiable cause or undue hardship does not include prescheduled or voluntary absences such as vacations. A request for an extension does not automatically extend your time to file by 45 days; you will be notified by Commission after your request has been reviewed.

A request for an extension must be made in writing or via the FDS Online Filing System and received by the Commission on or before the Statement due date. Forms and instructions are available on the Commission’s website under Financial Disclosure > Filing Information and Forms. For more information, please see Title 19 NYCRR Part 936 on the Commission’s website under Laws > Ethics Laws and Regulations.

Internal Revenue Service Automatic Extension of Time

If you have applied for an automatic extension of time to file your individual income tax return with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) and are missing information requested by the Statement because of your IRS extension, you may request an extension of time to file your complete Statement.

However, you must still file a partial Statement containing all of the other requested information by the Statement due date, along with a copy of your IRS application for an automatic extension of time, and a written statement describing the information that is missing from your Statement because of your IRS extension.

You must file a Supplementary Statement with all of the remaining information within 7 days after your IRS extension expires.

A request for an IRS extension must be made in writing or via the FDS Online Filing System and received by the Commission on or before the Statement due date. Forms and instructions are available on the Commission's website under Financial Disclosure > Filing Information and Forms. For more information, please see Title 19 NYCRR Part 935 on the Commission's website under Laws > Ethics Laws and Regulations.

How to File

Electronic Filing

The Commission encourages you to file electronically through the FDS Online Filing System, which is available through the Commission's website under Financial Disclosure > File Online. If you have questions on how to access the online filing system, please consult the Quick Reference Guide to the FDS Online Filing System available on Commission's website under Financial Disclosure > Filing Information and Forms. The advantages of filing online include:

- You can prepopulate your Statement with information from the prior year's Statement.
- You can save your Statements and access them online.
- You can print a "receipt" showing that your Statement was filed electronically.

Paper Filing

You may also file a paper Statement. Paper copies of the Statement are available in the Commission's Albany office. In addition, a fillable PDF version of the Statement is available on Commission's website under Financial Disclosure > Filing Information and Forms. The PDF version can be completed by hand or typed using your computer and printed out. If you file a paper Statement:

- Your Statement must be legible and contain an original signature. If you are completing the Statement by hand, you must use ink. Statements that are illegible, completed in pencil, or are missing an original signature will be returned, and your Statement will be deemed not filed.
- You must provide your home address on the last page of the Statement.
- You must mail or deliver the original signed Statement to the Commission's Albany office. Photocopies, facsimiles, and emails will not be accepted.
- Your Statement must be received or postmarked on or before the Statement due date to be considered on time.

Public Inspection of Statements

Under the Public Officers Law, the Statements of elected officials are available on the Commission's website under Financial Disclosure > View Elected Officials' Filings. All other Statements are available upon written request to the Commission. The names of unemancipated children, Filer's home address and Filer's signature are automatically redacted from copies of Statements made available for public inspection.

In accordance with Title 19 NYCRR Part 937, the following items are available for either copying or inspection, or subject to public disclosure:

- Filer's Notice of Delinquency
- Submission Date of Financial Disclosure
- If a particular filing is unavailable: the status of that filing (whether it is pending, overdue, or unavailable for some other reason such as an extension of time to file pursuant to Executive Law § 94(9)(c), an exemption from filing pursuant to Executive Law § 94(9)(k), or a pending application for deletion or exemption pursuant to Executive Law § 94(9)(h), or (i-1)).
- Whether deletions have been made to the filing pursuant to Executive Law § 94(9)(h)
- Whether the individual has been designated a Policy Maker or meets the filing rate

Exemption from Disclosing Information Pertaining to Spouse, Domestic Partner, and/or Unemancipated Child

You may request an exemption from disclosing specific information pertaining to your spouse, domestic partner and/or unemancipated children. Forms and instructions are available on the Commission's website under Financial Disclosure > Filing Forms and Instructions. Violations and Penalties

If you fail to file a Statement, or you file a Statement that is unclear, incomplete, or appears to be deficient, the Commission will send you a written notice and provide you with an opportunity to submit or amend your Statement. If you fail to comply, the Commission will send you and your appointing authority a notice of delinquency that advises you of fees and penalties for the failure to file, with such delinquency notice publicly available for copying and inspection.

If, following the notice of delinquency, you knowingly and willfully fail to file a Statement, or knowingly and willfully with intent to deceive file a false Statement, you may be subject to a civil penalty up to $40,000 after a hearing. In lieu of or in addition to such penalty, the Commission may refer a violation to the appropriate prosecutor for criminal prosecution as a misdemeanor offense. If convicted, you may be punished with up to one year of imprisonment.

Your appointing authority may also take disciplinary action against you for failing to file a Statement or filing a false Statement.

General Guidance

Answer each question with respect to calendar year 2023, unless another period or date is specified. Specifically, answer questions 1 through 3 as of the filing date. Answer questions 4 through 18 with respect to calendar year 2023. Finally, answer question 19 as of the date you complete the Statement.

Answer each question completely. Do not leave any response blank. For those questions that do not apply to you or for which you have no information to report, please indicate “N/A” or “none.”

If two or more questions require the same response or information, you may reference one response in the other question, so long as the response provides all information that is required by both questions.

When reporting “income” in response to a question, the term “income” means aggregate net income before taxes.

When reporting a value or amount in response to a question, use the categories from either Table I or Table II, as specified in the question. Indicate the category by letter only. You do not need to report the actual dollar amount.

You may attach additional pages to your Statement if you need more space. Each additional page should include: (1) your name; (2) the question number; and (3) the remainder of your answer.

A Reference List indicating where to report specific items on your Statement can be found at the end of this Guide.

With respect to reporting individuals who disclosed in question 8(a) that the reporting individual did not provide services to a client but provided services to a firm or business, identify the category of amount received for providing such services and describe the services rendered.

Services Actually Provided	Category of Amount (Table I)
----------------------------	------------------------------

A reporting individual need not disclose activities performed while lawfully acting in his or her capacity as provided in paragraphs (c), (d), (e), and (f) of subdivision seven of section seventy-three of this article.

The disclosure requirement in questions (b-1) and (b-2) shall not require disclosing clients or customers receiving medical, pharmaceutical or dental services, mental health services, or residential real estate brokering services from the reporting individual or his or her firm or if federal law prohibits or limits disclosure. The reporting individual need not identify any client to whom he or she or his or her firm provided legal representation with respect to investigation or prosecution by law enforcement authorities, bankruptcy, family court, estate planning, or domestic relations matters, nor shall the reporting individual identify individuals represented pursuant to an insurance policy but the reporting individual shall in such circumstances only report the entity that provides compensation to the reporting individual; with respect to matters in which the client's name is required by law to be kept confidential (such as matters governed by the family court act) or in matters in which the reporting individual represents or provides services to minors, the client's name may be replaced with initials. To the extent that the reporting individual, or his or her firm, provided legal representation with respect to an initial public offering, and professional disciplinary rules, federal law or regulations restrict the disclosure of information relating to such work, the reporting individual shall (i) disclose the identity of the client and the services provided relating to the initial public offering to the office of court administration, who will maintain such information confidentially in a locked box; and (ii) include in his or her response to questions (b-1) and b-2) that pursuant to this paragraph, a disclosure to the office of court administration has been made. Upon such time that the disclosure of information maintained in the locked box is no longer restricted by professional disciplinary rules, federal law or regulation, the reporting individual shall disclose such information in an amended disclosure statement in response to the disclosure requirements in questions (b-1) and (b-2). The office of court administration shall develop and maintain a secure portal through which information submitted to it pursuant to this paragraph can be safely and confidentially stored. With respect to clients represented in other matters not otherwise exempt, the reporting individual may request an exemption to publicly disclosing the name of that client from the commission on ethics and lobbying in government pursuant to section ninety-four of the executive law, or from the office of court administration. In such application, the reporting individual shall state the following:

"My client is not currently receiving my services or seeking my services in connection with:

- (i) A proposed bill or resolution in the senate or assembly during the reporting period;*
- (ii) A contract in an amount totaling $10,000 or more from the state or any state agency for services, materials, or property;*

- (iv) A grant obtained through a legislative initiative during the reporting period; or*

In reviewing the request for an exemption, the commission on ethics and lobbying in government or the office of court administration may consult with bar or other professional associations and the legislative ethics commission for individuals subject to its jurisdiction and may consider the rules of professional conduct. In making its determination, the commission on ethics and lobbying in government or the office of court administration shall conduct its own inquiry and shall consider factors including, but not limited to: (i) the nature and the size of the client; (ii) whether the client has any business before the state; and if so, how significant the business is; and whether the client has any particularized interest in pending legislation and if so how significant the interest is; (iii) whether disclosure may reveal trade secrets; (iv) whether disclosure could reasonably result in retaliation against the client; (v) whether disclosure may cause undue harm to the client; (vi) whether disclosure may result in undue harm to the attorney-client relationship; and (vii) whether disclosure may result in an unnecessary invasion of privacy to the client.

The commission on ethics and lobbying in government or, as the case may be, the office of court administration shall promptly make a final determination in response to such request, which shall include an explanation for its determination. The office of court administration shall issue its final determination within three days of receiving the request. Notwithstanding any other provision of law or any professional disciplinary rule to the contrary, the disclosure of the identity of any client or customer in response to this question shall not constitute professional misconduct or a ground for disciplinary action of any kind, or form the basis for any civil or criminal cause of action or proceeding. A reporting individual who first enters public office after January first, two thousand sixteen, need not report clients or customers with respect to matters for which the reporting individual or his or her firm was retained prior to entering public office.

This question applies if:

You reported in response to Question 8(a) that you did not provide services directly to clients, but you provided services to a Firm. “Services” means consultation, representation, advice, or other services.

With respect to clients represented in other matters not otherwise exempt, the reporting individual may request an exemption to publicly disclosing the name of that client from the commission on ethics and lobbying in government pursuant to section ninety-four of the executive law, or from the office of court administration. In such application, the reporting individual shall state the following:

"My client is not currently receiving my services or seeking my services in connection with:

- (i) A proposed bill or resolution in the senate or assembly during the reporting period;
- (ii) A contract in an amount totaling $10,000 or more from the state or any state agency for services, materials, or property;
- (iii) A grant of $10,000 or more from the state or any state agency during the reporting period;
- (iv) A grant obtained through a legislative initiative during the reporting period; or
- (v) A case, proceeding, application or other matter that is not a ministerial matter before a state agency during the reporting period."

In reviewing the request for an exemption, the commission on ethics and lobbying in government or the office of court administration may consult with bar or other professional associations and the legislative ethics commission for individuals subject to its jurisdiction and may consider the rules of professional conduct. In making its determination, the commission on ethics and lobbying in government or the office of court administration shall conduct its own inquiry and shall consider factors including, but not limited to: (i) the nature and the size of the client; (ii) whether the client has any business before the state; and if so, how significant the business is; and whether the client has any particularized interest in pending legislation and if so how significant the interest is; (iii) whether disclosure may reveal trade secrets; (iv) whether disclosure could reasonably result in retaliation against the client; (v) whether disclosure may cause undue harm to the client; (vi) whether disclosure may result in undue harm to the attorney-client relationship; and (vii) whether disclosure may result in an unnecessary invasion of privacy to the client.

The commission on ethics and lobbying in government or, as the case may be, the office of court administration shall promptly make a final determination in response to such request, which shall include an explanation for its determination. The office of court administration shall issue its final determination within three days of receiving the request. Notwithstanding any other provision of law or any professional disciplinary rule to the contrary, the disclosure of the identity of any client or customer in response to this question shall not constitute professional misconduct or a ground for disciplinary action of any kind, or form the basis for any civil or criminal cause of action or proceeding. List below the nature and amount of any income in EXCESS of $1,000 from EACH SOURCE for the reporting individual and such individual's spouse or domestic partner for the taxable year last occurring prior to the date of filing. Each such source must be described with particularity. Nature of income includes, but is not limited to, all income (other than that received from the employment listed under Item 2 above) from compensated employment whether public or private, directorships and other fiduciary positions, contractual arrangements, teaching income, partnerships, honorariums, lecture fees, consultant fees, bank and bond interest, dividends, income derived from a trust, real estate rents, and recognized gains from the sale or exchange of real or other property. Income from a business or profession and real estate rents shall be reported with the source identified by the building address in the case of real estate rents and otherwise by the name of the entity and not by the name of the individual customers, clients or tenants, with the aggregate net income before taxes for each building address or entity. The receipt of maintenance received in connection with a matrimonial action, alimony and child support payments shall not be listed.

Self/ Spouse or Domestic Partner	Source	Nature	Category of Amount (In Table I)

“Income” means aggregate net income before taxes (from each source). “Aggregate net income before taxes” means gross receipts less all reasonable and necessary expenses. For example, to compute aggregate net income from real property rentals, reasonable and necessary expenses include interest expense, real property taxes, and depreciation. Only report income if the aggregate net income before taxes is more than $1,000.

Please note that this question may require you to report income that is not listed on your income tax return. Income includes, but is not limited to:

- payments received from a judgment, pension plan, annuity, deferred compensation plan, profit-sharing plan, IRA, or Keogh plan.
- recognized gains from the sale of real or personal property, including securities. “Recognized gain” means a gain recognized under the Internal Revenue Code.
- honoraria, cash dividends, interest income, outside employment, gambling/lottery winnings, and real estate rental income.

Please see the Reference List at the end of this guide for information on additional items.

For purposes of disclosing the identity and value of a trust, retirement plan, or deferred compensation plan, account statements containing account numbers, social security numbers or a home address should not be attached to or included in the financial disclosure filing.

Such information, if attached, will be available for public inspection.

WHAT TO REPORT:

- Each source of income in excess of $1,000 that was received by, or paid to, you or your spouse or domestic partner during 2023, except income you received from New York State related to the position for which you are filing this Statement. If you did not actually receive the income during 2023, but such income is owed to you, report that information in response to Question 14.
- Under “source,” list the name of each business from which you or your spouse or domestic partner received the income. Each source must be described with particularity. For example, it is not enough to disclose the general practice of a profession; you must list the name of the entity that provided the income.
 - For securities, list the particular stock or investment that has generated aggregate net income of more than $1,000. Do not offset losses from one stock or investment against gains from another stock or investment.
 - For bank interest income, list each bank from which you received more than $1,000 in interest income.
 - For income from the sale or rental of real property, under “source,” list the location (street and locality address) of the property, but do not list the names of tenants or purchasers. If the source of income is the rental or sale of your primary or secondary residence, then instead of the location, list primary residence or secondary residence.
- Under “nature” of income, list the type of income (bank interest, stock dividends, salary, etc.) received from that source.
- The category of value of the income.

DO NOT REPORT:

- Alimony/maintenance or child support payments
- Unemployment insurance benefits

List the sources of any deferred income (not retirement income) in EXCESS of $1,000 from each source to be paid to the reporting individual following the close of the calendar year for which this disclosure statement is filed, other than deferred compensation reported in item 11 hereinabove. Deferred income derived from the practice of a profession shall be listed in the aggregate and shall identify as the source, the name of the firm, corporation, partnership or association through which the income was derived, but shall not identify individual clients.

Item Assigned or Transferred	Assigned or Transferred to	Category of Amount (In Table I)

WHAT TO REPORT:

- Each assignment of income of more than $1,000. An “assignment” means a transfer by you to another person of income or a right to income.

 - The value of the transfer is greater than $1,000; and
 - Less than fair market value is received in return.

Question 16 – Investments

List below the type and market value of securities held by the reporting individual or such individual's spouse or domestic partner from each issuing entity in EXCESS of $1,000 at the close of the taxable year last occurring prior to the date of filing, including the name of the issuing entity exclusive of securities held by the reporting individual issued by a professional corporation. Whenever an interest in securities exists through a beneficial interest in a trust, the securities held in such trust shall be listed ONLY IF the reporting individual has knowledge thereof except where the reporting individual or the reporting individual's spouse or domestic partner has transferred assets to such trust for his or her benefit in which event such securities shall be listed unless they are not ascertainable by the reporting individual because the trustee is under an obligation or has been instructed in writing not to disclose the contents of the trust to the reporting individual. Securities of which the reporting individual or the reporting individual's spouse or domestic partner is the owner of record but in which such individual or the reporting individual's spouse has no beneficial interest shall not be listed. Indicate percentage of ownership ONLY if the reporting person or the reporting person's spouse or domestic partner holds more than five percent (5%) of the stock of a corporation in which the stock is publicly traded or more than ten percent (10%) of the stock of a corporation in which the stock is NOT publicly traded. Also list securities owned for investment purposes by a corporation more than fifty percent (50%) of the stock of which is owned or controlled by the reporting individual or such individual's spouse or domestic partner. For the purpose of this item, the term "securities" shall mean mutual funds, bonds, mortgages, notes, obligations, warrants and stocks of any class, investment interests in limited or general partnerships and certificates of deposits (CDs) and such other evidences of indebtedness and certificates of interest as are usually referred to as securities. The market value for such securities shall be reported only if reasonably ascertainable and shall not be reported if the security is an interest in a general partnership that was listed in item 8(a) or if the security is corporate stock, NOT publicly traded, in a trade or business of a reporting individual or a reporting individual's spouse or domestic partner.

Self/Spouse or Domestic Partner	Issuing Entity	Type of Security	Percentage of corporate stock owned or controlled (if more than 5% of publicly traded stock, or more than 10% if stock not publicly traded, is held)	Category of Market Value as of the close of the taxable year last occurring prior to the filing of this statement (In Table II)

This question requires you to report securities and investments held by you, your spouse, domestic partner, or a corporation of which you or your spouse or domestic partner own or control more than 50% of the stock at the close of business on December 31, 2023, when the fair market value or amount of the investment at the end of the tax year is more than $1,000. You must list:

- The name of the issuing entity (corporation, fund name, etc.);
- The type of investment;
- Percentage of ownership, if you or your spouse or domestic partner hold more than 5% of a publicly traded stock or 10% of a stock that is not publicly traded;
 - If you or your spouse or domestic partner hold less than the above percentages, you must report the security but are not required to report the percentage.
- The category of market value as of the close of the taxable year.

You may aggregate all similar types of securities from the same issuing entity and report the total value. For example, multiple bonds from the same issuing entity can be reported in the aggregate.

For purposes of disclosing the identity and value of a trust, retirement plan, or deferred compensation plan, account statements containing account numbers, social security numbers or a home address should not be attached to or included in the financial disclosure filing.

Such information, if attached, will be available for public inspection.

WHAT TO REPORT:

- Stocks.
- Certificates of deposit, bonds, notes, warrants, and treasury notes. You do not need to list the serial number, issue year, or type of any bonds, if you indicate the issuing entity and the aggregate value of all bonds from that entity.
- Mutual funds and investment funds. This includes such funds held through an Individual Retirement Account (IRA). List a fund even if you reported it in response to Question 11. You do not need to list the individual securities held by the fund.
- For partnerships and investment clubs, list those securities where your or your spouse’s or domestic partner’s name appears on the security document or certificate.
- Securities, such as obligations, investment interests in partnerships, debt instruments and certificates of interest that are usually referred to as securities, and mortgages held to enforce the collection of monies owed to you or your spouse or domestic partner by a person or entity arising from the purchase of real property.
- Securities held for your benefit by a brokerage firm or nominee.

If you need guidance on whether interests in more specialized security transactions (e.g., margin accounts) are reportable, contact the Commission for advice.
